

I. Foreword by Federico Mayor Zaragoza	10
II. Introduction	12
II. a) General context	13
II. b) Universities and cooperation for development	14
II. c) Specific and innovative elements of this report	14
III. Research results	16
III.a) Methodology	17
III. a. 1. Description of the information gathering process.....	17
III. a. 2. Description of the information analysis process	17
III. a. 3. Difficulties and limitations.....	19
III.b) Actors involved and number of projects	19
III.c) Typology of projects	21
III. c. 1. Research projects/activities.....	21
III. c. 2. Training projects/activities.....	22
III. c. 3. Technology transfer projects/activities.....	23
III.d) Thematic and geographic areas, relation to the HDI, to the FAO “World Hunger Map”, and others	23
III. d. 1. Thematic area	23
III. d. 2. Geographic area.....	24
III. d. 3. Analysis of the actions/projects in relation to the HDI	26
III. d. 4. Analysis of the actions/projects in relation to the FAO “World Hunger Map” and to the Map of “Progress towards the World Food Summit target since 1990-92”	28
III. d. 5. Involvement of the actors of the receiving countries.....	30

III.e) Mobilised resources	30
III. e. 1. Economic resources	30
III. e. 1. 1 Size of the projects	31
III. e. 1. 2 Economic resources mobilised according to typology	33
III. e. 1. 3 Sources of financing	36
III. e. 2. Human resources	38
IV. Conclusions and proposals for the future	40
V. Annexes	44
V. I. List of abbreviations	45
V. II. Examples of prominent actions	46
V. III. Questionnaire	51
V. IV. Authors	53
VI. Bibliography and reference documents	56